

Butterflies

Fascinating Facts

There are around 24,000 species of butterfly. The largest of them is the Queen Alexandra's Birdwing found in New Guinea. It has a wingspan of 30 centimetres.

A group of butterflies together is called a "flutter".

Butterflies are cold blooded and need the heat from the sun in order that they can fly

