

Olympic Archery – London 2012

Archery at the Olympics

Archery has a long history and dates back over 10,000 years when bows and arrows were used in warfare and for hunting.

Today archery is practiced in over 140 countries. The target is 70 metres away from the archer and the central gold ring measures only 12.2 centimetres in diameter.

