

Greek Goddess Nike

In Greek mythology, Nike was the Goddess of speed, strength and victory. Nike could run very fast and had wings. She is often associated with athletics and other contests as well as warfare. The Roman equivalent of Nike is Victoria.

